November 6, 1922. Continuing on the above matter, Operative located at the railroad station in New Brunswick, N.J., at 8.30 a.m.

After remaining about the railroad station for about two hours, Operative proceeded to the vicinity of George & Albany Sts, New Brunswick, N.J., and upon arrival there observed several reporters in the Telegraph Office sending messages. Operative entered the Telegraph Office and overheard the following conversation:- "The Officials will take Mrs. Hall into custody before the end of the week, as lots of them believe that Mrs. Hall knows something about it." Another reporter said, "You are very much mistaken, Mrs. Hall does not know anything about it, and it is a foolish idea and thing for the Officials to get a Warrant for Carpenter, why that man can clear himself with his reputation." Another reporter said, "Why after Tuesday this case will be closed and there will be nothing to it." Another reporter then remarked, "Mrs. Fraley made a liar out of Mrs. Gibson, come on fellows we will go up and see Mrs. Fraley." To this one of the other reporters replied, "It is no use to go up to see her, she wont talk, Mott told her not to."

Upon leaving the Telegraph Office Operative proceeded to and entered the cigar store on Albany St. near George Street.

While in the above mentioned cigar store, Operative overheard a man remark, "Well they can go as far as they like they never will get anything on Mrs. Hall no matter how deep they may dig. The Officials have got to make some kind of bluff, they mixed things up at the start and now they are trying to make the people believe they are doing something."

Upon leaving the above mentioned cigar store, Operative proceeded to the railroad station and joined Garry Kenny. Garry Kenny introduced Operative to a man by the name of Thomas. While Operative, Garry Kenny and Thomas were in conversation, a reporter came in and joined them. This reporter who
